RESEARCH PROFESSIONAL

We seek a highly skilled and motivated individual to work as a full-time research professional for a period of at least one year. Our preferred start date is June 1, 2018, but this is flexible. The application deadline for the fall round of applications is November 17, 2017.

This research professional will assist Assistant Professor of Economics Jonathan Dingel on new and ongoing projects in international economics and urban economics. The ongoing research projects include collaborations with coauthors at universities such as Berkeley, Columbia, Princeton, Santa Barbara, and Wharton. Previous holders of this position at Chicago Booth have gone on to the Ph.D. program at Stanford University.

The ideal candidate will possess (i) a strong quantitative background; (ii) strong computer skills including programming; (iii) ability to work independently to solve problems; and (iv) a long-term interest in pursuing research in economics. Background in economics is advantageous but not necessary – we welcome candidates with strong technical backgrounds who are looking for more exposure to economics. We pay an annual salary of $48,000 and provide standard benefits such as health insurance.
