

Research Professional

We are looking for a skilled individual to work as a full-time research assistant for John List at the University of Chicago. The position would start in the summer and last a minimum of one year. The job entails working on a variety of field and laboratory experiments in charitable giving, education, behavioral economics and other topics.

Applicants should have completed a Bachelors or Masters degree in economics or related discipline. The ideal candidate will have: (1) demonstrated research experience; (2) experience managing projects or employees; (3) a demonstrated ability to work independently; (4) a strong quantitative and programming background; and (5) a strong interest experimental economics.

To apply, please send a cover letter, resume, transcripts, and a writing sample (optional) to Justin Holz at justinholz@uchicago.edu.

The University of Chicago provides equal opportunities to all employees, applicants, and job seekers. No person shall be discriminated against in employment or harassed because of race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national or ethnic origin, age, disability, veteran status, genetic information, marital status, parental status, ancestry, source of income or other classes protected by law. This policy includes the commitment to maintain a work environment free from unlawful harassment.